Developing our moral understanding helps us to tell the difference between right and wrong. It is helping us to make the right choices.

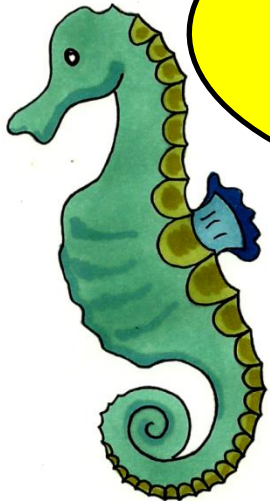

Marvin the Moral Monkey

Developing our social understanding helps us to work and play together. It gives us the chance to take on responsibility and develop a sense of belonging. It teaches us to be respectful.

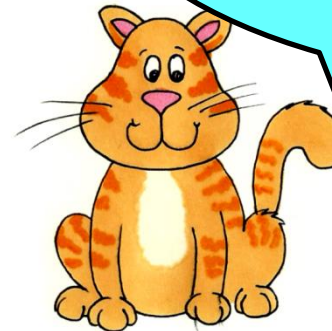

Sandy the Social Starfish

Developing our spiritual understanding helps us understand that different people feel and believe different things. It also helps us to 'Find the Wonderful' in our world.

Salty the Spiritual Seahorse

Developing our cultural understanding helps us to learn about our own lives and the lives of our friends. It also helps us to learn about the way other people live, as well as how people lived in the past. It teaches us to respect other people's culture.
